Generation 1

1. Timothy Turnpenny-1. He was born Abt. 1704 in Horsforth. Occupation in Labourer.

Notes for Timothy Turnpenny:

General Notes:

Section 1

See settlement papers (in file) 12th Dec 1724 for the right to move from Horsforth to live in Yeadon, this was granted and I have therefore assumed until new information may come to light that he was born in Horsforth. He married in Guiseley 1724, with one child born before the marriage in 1724 at Horsforth, the second child born in 1726 in Guiseley. With him being given permission to live in Yeadon, it has to be the same person as all these places are next door to each other. He later moved to Grimesdike in 1732 and Winmoor from 1737, from 1732 his children were baptized at Barwick in Elmet which again is only a stone throw away.

Jane Jackson is the daughter of John Jackson and Elizabeth. She was born 1695 in Brownmoor (IGI). Baptism on 29 Jan 1695 in Barwick in Elmet (IGI).

A FATALITY AT FAIRBURN

ONE WORKMAN KILLED, ANOTHER INJURED

An accident resulting in the death of one man and another being injured, occurred on Saturday night on the railway bridge which crosses the river at Fairburn. The men were on their way to work at Fryston Colliery, and usually they cross the river by means of a ferryboat. On Saturday, however, the boatman was not there, as they crossed the railway bridge and were overtaken by a passenger train.

The Coroner, Major Arundel, conducted an inquiry into the matter at the Three Horse Shoes Hotel, Fairburn, on Wednesday. The deceased man was Arthur Turnpenny (61) colliery horseman of 1, Newrow, Fairburn and evidence of identification was given by his son John Turnpenny. Tom Grainger, colliery horseman stated that on Saturday, about 9.50pm as there was no boatman to take the workman across the river, deceased a man named Renton and himself started to cross the railway bridge, walking along the up line. There was a goods train in front of them on the down line, witness did not see a train on the up line. He was walking close to the bridge side, and behind deceased and Renton, when a passenger train passed on the up line. It was a dark night. About 40 yards further on he found deceased lying on his back on the outside of the metals, and there was no doubt he had been knocked down by the train. He did not see any external injuries on deceased, but he was unconscious. Renton was sitting against the side of the bridge with an arm broken. Witness obtained assistance, and deceased was carried towards home on a stretcher, but he died shortly afterwards on the railway. In answer to the foreman, witness said they had had to cross the bridge before owing to there being no boatman, and they had complained to the management of the colliery and a boatman had been provided. The Coroner: Are you in the habit of going over the railway bridge when there is not a boat? Witness: Yes, because we can't go any other way to work. - Has it happened frequently that the boatman is not there? No - Is it trespassing to go over the bridge? Yes, of course.- In answer to further questions witness said there was a notice board warning trespassers. Several people had been caught and fined. - The Foreman: Have you ever been informed by the management of the colliery that if the boatman was not there you had to cross the bridge? Yes - The Foreman: Then I consider the management are to blame for this. The Coroner: You have not been asked to express an opinion yet. (To witness) Who was it who told you? - Witness: Mr. Soar, - In reply to a question by the Coroner, Mr F.Hansons, a permanent way inspector, said that when the river was in flood flag men had been on the bridge. - Wm. Torr, of York, engine driver, stated that he was in charge of the train which left York at 9.36 for Normanton on Saturday night. It was a dark night, but clear. He was not prepared to say whether he passed a goods train on the bridge and he did not notice any obstruction. The train would be travelling at from 25 to 30 miles per hour. He Examined the engine at Normanton and did not find anything unusual. - Wm. Barker, stationmaster at Burton Salmon, said that workmen were not allowed to cross the bridge, but they had been in the habit of doing so, and there had been prosecutions. It would be trespassing to be on the bridge.

In his summing up the Coroner said there was no doubt that deceased had no business to have been on the bridge. He had no right to have taken advantage of other peoples property, and he did so at his own risk. It would be advisable, if possible, to have some means always available of getting across the water. It was very necessary that the men should get to their work. He did not know whether a light hand bridge could be erected near the railway bridge, but it would certainly be a great convenience to the workpeople generally. The jury, after a retirement, found that deceased was accidentally killed, and added a rider that they considered better facilities should be provided by the colliery company for the crossing of the river. - The inquest was attended by Messes, F. Hansons (permanent way inspector) Tindall (general inspector) and Shipley (locomotive inspector) of the N.E. Railways, and Mr. W.C.Grafton, district locomotive superintendent of the L. & Y. Railway.

Occupation - 1911 in Tailor - Presser.

Notes for William Johnson Turnpenny:

General Notes:

Section 9A

On the census 1871 he is shown staying with his grand parents and shown as deaf and dumb. The birth certificate shows the father to be Thomas but the mother is shown as Hannah Holroyd, she put her mark. The farther Thomas was shown as a Stoker at a Wollen Mill. Now was there a son Thomas who I have not found yet as there are no Thomas's on the GRO that might fit. So was this the son of Hannah born 1844 ? and they tried to cover it up ?

On the Census 1901 he is also shown as deaf and dumb. To add further complications the marriage certificate shows no father and age as 25 (born 1871) the C1901 shows age as 31 (born 1870) - this is definitely a bit of a mystery - where did the middle name Johnson come from - maybe we have the wrong person & relied on the affliction of being deaf & dumb to fit this person into the tree .

Information from his grandson Peter Colin born 1954 dated 24-12-04. Colin born 1944 (uncle) visited as usual last Sunday, and brought with him my grandfathers discharge certificate. This shows date of discharge as 2nd Lieutenant (through invalidity brought on by poisoned gas we understand) on 31st January 1918.

After the war George was Manager of various greyhound racing stadia, in the days when that was a very popular spectator sport, Portsmouth, Rochester, Coventry, Leicester and Derby are believed to be the various locations also in that order.

Now confirmed.

2nd Lt. G.W.Turnpenny, 17 Notts & Derby Reg. 39th Division of 732, Wakefield Road, Bradford, Yorks :- left unit May 1st 1917 - date embarkation to England June 1st 1917 - port Boulogne to Dover - Ship St. David, cause return - Shrapnel wound & Gastralgia -

Whitehall 9th June 1917 - Lt G.W.Turnpenny, 17th Battalion Nottinghamshire to 2nd Derbyshire Regiment, Royal Free Hospital, Greys inn Road - Date of injuries 12th May 1917 in France - Thigh`s.

Date of Leave 11th June 1917 to 2nd July 1917.

Letter dated 1st August 1917 Nottingham - G.W.Turnpenny No 97665M went absent without leave on 23rd July 1917 and disappeared on 31st July 1917.

Note on 20th September 1917 a letter from him to the War Office says he is on home leave and by 16 th October he is at Hylton Castle, Sunderland ?

See letters in the file dated 20th Sept 1917 & 16th Oct 1917 from George William requesting compensation for his war injuries, from these it looks as though he was injured in Jan 1916 - Also note that the signatures on the letters look the same as those shown on other documents, the letters appear to be written by different people. It looks as though he became fed up with waiting for his compensation and decided to help himself from the army payroll.

See details in the file but he was charged with stealing £110 from the payroll, through lack of evidence he was released from arrest. A civil action then took place and he was arrested, charged, given bail and failed to surrender his bail and was duly arrested again. Eventually on the 8th April 1918 he was acquitted at Durham Quarter Sessions. Read the case it looks dubious to me. In fact the Judge said privately that he thought he was Guilty, all in the file.

Greyhound Saved - The Daily Mirror 13th July 1950. George was the racing manager at Kings Heath, Birmingham - see article in the file.

Riddle of deaths on dog track - The Daily Mirror 13th Dec 1958. - George was the racing manager at Derby where three greyhounds died see article in the file.

James died at "Woodview", Belbroughton Road, Blakedown, Worcestershire.

Notes from Roger Turnpenny his Grandson.

James Turnpenny Born 18th December 1882 was a native of Yorkshire and in his younger days was well known in the West Riding as a cricketer, he was a prominent member of the Barston Ash Cricket League and won several medals for his successes.

He served in the Royal Artillery during World War One (the great war) and after the Armistice was signed he remained with the Army of Occupation in Germany.

On completion of his military Service, he commenced his career of Parish Clerk at a church in Staffordshire, since when had served in many churches throughout the country. From 1943 until he retired in June 1955 he was parish clerk at the Church of Saint Michaels and All Angels, Stourport on Seven, and was always proud of the fact that he was responsible for the bells of St. Michaels being the first in the country to announce the birth of HM Prince Charles.

Since retirement at Blakedown, Worcestershire he continued to take a keen interest in the local church and village affairs and was highly respected. He was a man of simple tastes, a great lover of nature and his interests and concern in the welfare of his fellow men endeared him to everyone whom he came into contact with. His funeral Service at St. James Church, Blakedown, Worcestershire was conducted by the Rev Noel Panter followed by interment in the churchyard.

The above details were found in the effects of James's daughter Margaret (Daisy) Turnpenny upon her death on 8th December 2004. In addition James was called up for army Service on 17th April 1917 and served in both Germany and France during World War 1, his official title was Gunner James Turnpenny number 154579 of 25 Seig Battery, RGA. BE7 France. He was transferred to the army reserve on 9th November 1919.

Presented to James Turnpenny in appreciation of many years service at Streetly Parish Church. Nov 1941.

Note. Samuel obtained a copy of his birth certificate on the 26th January 1948 for the purposes of "Widows Orphans & old Age Contributory Pensions Act 1946". Possibly to claim his State Pension.

April 16th 2005 - I visited St James Church, Blakedown to see if there was a memorial stone to James but found nothing as some of the memorial and grave stones had been vandalized. There was stones laying face down, too heavy to lift and on the right hand corner of the church yard some graves were covered in cut down trees again too heavy to move. There appears to be work going on to open up the churchyard to make visibility clearer and maybe stop the vandalism.

From the burial register of graves & burials at Blakedown church it shows that his grave is on the north side of the footpath plot J7. (see details in the file)

W/O 208/5403 - Prisoner. Turnpenny E. - Rank Driver Mechanic - No 950160 - Date of Capture 29th June 1942 - Place M. Matruh - Number in camp on 8th Sept 1943 : 8500 - Number escaped approx 2000.

Details of Escape. On the 16th Sept 1943 I decided to make my escape from the camp as I had observed that the Italian guards were very slack in keeping a watch on us prisoners, so that morning I walked out of the camp and escaped to the hills. I made my way to the south passing through the hills, the whole time avoiding towns. On the 12th Oct 1943 I made contact with British Forces at Termoli. I gave information to the Fd. Regt. Artillery, as to German positions, this I was able to do as I had passed through German lines. On the evening of 16th Oct I passed on to Foggia where I stayed in the British Transit Camp after which I went down to Toranto. I was helped throughout my journey by Italian peasants who gave me food shelter whenever possible.

He signed two declaration papers to keep his knowledge of the war secret on 16th November 1943, but wrote his army number as 850160 ?

From a Newspaper cutting:-

Wedding. - On Wednesday an interesting wedding took place at All Saints Church, the Rev H.R.Peal officiating. The bride was Miss Lucy Webster second daughter of Mr E.Webster, a well known resident, and the bridegroom was Mr W.Turnpenny of Streeton near Leeds. Miss Webster was becomingly attired in cream serge with white hat and she was accompanied by her sisters Laura and Lily as bridesmaids who were dressed in dove grey. Mr W.Smith carried the duties of best man, and Mr E.Webster gave away his daughter. Owing to a serious accident which had the day previously befallen a friend of the bridegroom, who was to have acted as best man, the festivities were considerably curtailed, but the happy couple received the congratulations of their numerous friends and also many valuable presents. The future home will be at Steeton.

In attendance at his fathers death William.

During the 2nd World War he was a Yeoman Navigator on the minesweeper HMS Ardrossan. The ship was built by Blyth Shipbuilding Company, at Blyth, Northumberland and launched on 22nd July 1941. She had a relatively quiet wartime career and was sold on 1st January 1948 for breaking up. She arrived at the breakers yard at Thornaby - on - Tees on 19th August 1948. He got his release order from Navel Service from HMS Pembroke on 5th November 1945.

In the file is pictures of Cononley Station were Arthur & Frances lived in 1969.

The funeral was at St. Peters in the Forest, Walthamstow, followed by cremation at the City of London Crematorium. His Ashes are to be scattered in Yorkshire at the same place as his late wife. (St. Peters Church, Addingham). The principle mourners were his two daughters, Pat (now Chapman and formerly Hines) and Susan Adams and their husbands, Beryl and Roy Faulkingham traveled down from Yorkshire. My two children Stephen and Rachel Lucy and myself were also were able to be there.

(Information from Ken Hines by "e" mail dated 30th July 2006).

In the File is a booklet written by Ken Hines for the Golden wedding of Frances & Arthur - called "This Is Your Ancestry". With a lot more details of their lives.

One of Malvern family History Society members Joy Freemantle used to live in Cononley at Graig View No1 & Arthur & Frances lived opposite at No11. She tells me that Arthur was a keen gardener. She said he was a lovely, gentle and funny man with a great line in Yorkshire wit & wisdom and remembers some of his sayings, calling September weather "a bit endish" and asking if "you'll be lifting one later" when inviting someone to the pub. Joy also went to their golden wedding and found they were lovely neighbors and made them very welcome as "offcumdens" all the way from Leeds.

Information from death certificate.

Died in Fairburn cut (canal) on 5th September 1913, the coroners report held by Walter B Arundel at an inquest held on 8th September 1913 stated " Cast himself into the cut and was drowned, not being of sound mind did kill himself, "

Report from the "Pontefract & Castleford Gazette" dated Friday September 12th 1913.

A FAIRBURNS MANS SUICIDE

At the Old School, Fairburn on Monday at noon, Major Arundel, coroner, conducted an inquest on view of the body of Jas. Wn. Turnpenny (20)(James William), a miner of Cragg House, Fairburn, whose body was taken from the Cut on Sunday morning.

Elizabeth Amelia Turnpenny the widow, said that deceased left home on Friday at about 2.40pm saying he was going for a walk to the Boat Cabin. She did not see him again alive. The deceased was always cheerful. They had had a few sharp words on Friday morning, but were all right when he left home in the afternoon. They had been married only a year and nine months.

Fred Horton, farm laborer, Lumby Lane, deposed to having seen the deceased walking in the direction of the Cut on Friday afternoon. The deceased who was perfectly sober was jolly and said he was going to see the Ferryman - Evidence as to finding the unfortunate mans watch and chain on some barbed wire by the Cut side was given by Jno Thom Hunter coal miner and PS Jackson deposed to receiving the watch and chain on Saturday, and said that on Sunday at 11.45am he recovered the body from the Cut in 10 to 12 feet of water. The deceased was fully dressed excepting his cap. Witness added there was no doubt the deceased got into the Cut on the East side, and he could not have got in accidentally. The deceased brother Jack, when in the Army two years ago attempted to take his life by cutting his throat. The widow here identified the watch and chain produced as being her husbands.

The verdict was that the deceased drowned himself whilst of unsound mind.

(Note Jack was John Brown Turnpenny)

Exhaustion No PM. Medical Condition was 1. Progressive wasting disease (possibly Tuberculosis) Certified by Annie Rennie Hurd . MB.. Occupation in House Keeper - Domestic. Census - 1901 in 14, Monkfryston Rd. Fairburn.. Address 1911 in 1, New Row, Fairburn..

Notes for Elizabeth Amelia Turley:

General Notes:

On her death certificate she is shown as 36 years, this should have been 29 years - On her marriage to William Goodall it is shown as 28 years when it should have been 23 Years - For some reason she must have decided to be older hence after eight years of marriage she was thought to be 36.

Also on the death certificate she is shown as the wife of Ernest Goodall - I believe this is actually her brother in law - perhaps for some reason he reported the death ?

I have checked all the GRO records of deaths & marriages many times over the last few years
